

Choosing a package with Glean

Whether you're looking to drive UDL goals and boost accessibility across campus, find a more effective support solution for your department, or support a few individual students, there's a Glean package to suit every need.

Glean for Education

Become a UDL advocate by taking Glean site wide

Difficulties in the learning process span wider than disclosed disabilities. Not only are some of these difficulties temporary (poor sleep, stress etc.), but as many as 65% of students do not disclose when they have a diagnosed disability, or receive the accommodations they need. You can reduce barriers to effective study by offering every student, admin, and faculty member a license to use Glean with a cost-effective site wide license.

Experience an enhanced Glean Admin with extra Site Wide features

- ▶ Just-in-Time Provisioning - students and staff can sign up through a single link, removing pressure from admin to invite each user individually
- ▶ Segmented user groups to better manage users at your institution Coming soon

Drive UDL and accessibility across campus

- ▶ Note taking accommodations for the 65% of students who don't disclose their disability
- ▶ UDL support for all of your students to become better, more independent learners
- ▶ Support for the 80% of students with short or long-term mental health challenges affecting their studies

Support a broader range of students

- ▶ Help for first-year students managing the jump from further to higher education
- ▶ A reliable way for ESL students to capture information that they may otherwise miss

Experience an easy-to-implement, cost-effective site wide solution

- ▶ Site wide pricing makes Glean available to all on campus at a much lower equivalent price per student.
- ▶ Live tutorials with a Glean customer success manager (CSM) for staff and students to encourage usage
- ▶ Easy onboarding, plus a dedicated CSM and biannual reviews

"There's so much information in class. Even if students are sitting, listening and paying attention it's hard. There may be too much information for them to process. They may need to go back and listen 2-3 times for it to stick. Glean allows for that."

Barbara, Faculty at Florida Gulf Coast University

Discover an alternative to peer note taking with a Department License

If you want to cover your note taking accommodation requests with an alternative that allows students to learn more independently, Glean's Department package is for you.

Department package Features

- ▶ Live captions package available with support for 32 languages*
- ▶ Powerful multi-media note taking tools on mobile and desktop
- ▶ Shared collections to anonymize notes between note takers and recipients

Improve learning for your students with disabilities

- ▶ Help students learn independently without relying on peer note-takers
- ▶ Level the playing field and help 85% of your DSS students become more confident learners

Relieve the pressure from staff in your department

- ▶ Offer a more cost-effective alternative to peer note-taking
- ▶ Receive enough licenses to cover all of your note taking accommodation requests
- ▶ Dedicated CSM manager and biannual reviews to make the most out of Glean (dependent on the number of licenses)
- ▶ Access to Glean Admin to manage your licenses
- ▶ Seat discounts for larger quantities

Glean for Education is also available without live captions. However, with around 90% of students finding captions useful for learning and engagement, including captions ensures a comprehensive support solution and reduces the number of separate accommodations that your department needs to manage.*

"Students are increasingly anxious, and they're already worried they can't keep up in class. Telling my students they're going to be able to capture information with Glean reduces their anxiety. It's like a security blanket"

Patrick, Faculty at Fresno City College
